

Mega Mall Madness

This was for Katie's 14th birthday party. She invited 12 girls, which we divided into three groups of four. They had a blast. The pictures were the best part.

You will need to have a digital camera for each team and a computer to download the pictures. You don't have to actually print the pictures, but the judges do need to view them. We ended up burning the pictures to disks, one for each girl.

In this file you will find the invitation (front and back), a booklet with rules, directions and the scavenger hunt requirements. You will also find a page with the logo that we printed on photo transfer paper and applied to three different color T-shirts (one for each girl), plus judge tags.

As the girls arrived they got to decorate foam tiaras which they wore to the mall. I found purses at the Dollar Store which worked as treat bags. Katie and I also made hair bandanas plus they got to keep the T-shirts with the Mega Mall Madness logo.

We had four judges (Art, my mom, Jesse and myself). We used a point system to pick the winners. Each judge would give 3 points to his/her first choice, 2 points to his/her 2nd choice and 1 point to his/her third choice for each category. Then we totalled the points, added any bonus points for free stuff found or if someone dressed really outrageously.

While the judges were judging, the girls ate pizza then made sundaes. It was a lot of work, but I think everyone had a great time.

Feel free to adapt this in any way you see fit. If I were to do this again, I would probably have less/no purchases and more pictures. I would also plan a snack or at least something to drink while at the mall.

Mega Mall Madness:

It's a scavenger hunt extravaganza at the Mall! Drop off/pick up will be _____.
As you arrive you will be sorted into teams. You are encouraged to wear big, flashy jewelry and/or colorful, outrageous clothes. We want you to stand out in the crowd!

The madness consists of making fun purchases (money will be provided) and a digital camera for taking wacky pictures. The purchased items will become the prizes. Prizes will be awarded once we have returned home.

Note to parents: There will be adult chaperones at the mall. Each team will have a cell phone and be required to check in. We also have a list of rules/safety guidelines that each girl/team will receive along with the scavenger hunt list.

If you have any concerns please call _____.

Welcome Shoppers to

Mega Mall Madness

Ground Rules

- This scavenger hunt is all meant in fun. Do not do anything dangerous or inappropriate. Your parents will see these pictures so don't do anything you wouldn't want Mom to see.
- Obey all shopkeepers and other mall employees.
- No more than one team can be in any store at one time.
- For purchases, you have $ _____ total. Teams will receive points for coming closest to total amount. You may not spend more, including tax.
- Gifts purchased will be used as prizes in the contest. So don't buy anything that stinks or makes annoying noises. It might just be going home with YOU.
- Points will be assigned by the judges for creativity. All clues can be read in many ways, so think outside the box. You must take at least five of the photos listed, but may take more for extra credit as time allows.
- You have just _____ hours to make your five purchases and take your five pictures, so think strategically and work as a team (No splitting up. Stay together. You'll draw more attention that way. Ha ha).
- Each member of the team must appear in at least one photo.
- Teams must check in every _____ – in person or by cell phone.
- If you take a picture, then later find something you like better, snap it, too. Judges will consider the picture you think is best for points. (Note: Extra points might be awarded for "outtake photos" at the judges' discretion).

Have Fun!

Picture This

Best Cross-Dresser: At least one of your team must dress up in guy's clothes and have her picture taken. Remember, creativity counts!

Extra Credit

If you have extra time, you can earn extra points for finding freebies, like any Super Shopper can. Your team will earn 1 point for every freebie it collects (things like free samples, business cards, menus, sales brochures – but remember, no stealing things that aren't meant to be given away).

Points are awarded for unique items – 1 point per item – you don't get 100 points for collecting 100 of the same business card.
